Congressional Business, &c.

The bisl for the establishment of the Board of Accounts, or private claims, seems to be going the way of the New York branch mint. They are first way of the New York branch mint. They are first changing the bill into something entirely new, and to-morrow they will probably ley it on the table.

The deficiency bill, after the addition of a million, in the Senate, in the way of amendments, goes back to the House. At the next meeting of Congress, the President and Secretary of the Treasury will be after asking for twenty or thirty millions of Treasury notes.

gress, the President and Secretary of the Treasury will be after asking for twenty or thirty millions of Treasury notes.

Cheap postages hold back in the Senate. We are afraid Mr. Rusk, chairman on post offices, &c. is but a lukewarm advocate of cheap postages; and one half the battle lies in getting a zealous advocate in the chairman of the regular committee. We are indebted to Mr. Merrick, of Md., a former chairman on post offices and post roads, for the five and ten cent postages; but we have our misgivings of Mr. Rusk.

The city is full of lobby members on the subject of the patent laws, French spoliations, rivers and harbors, and the tariff; end will probably continue so till the end of the session, when it is very likely they will all decamp among the disappointed.

Miss Julia Davenport continues to attract nightly to the National theatre the fullest and most fashionable theatrical audiences that we have had in Washington for many a year. We have seen here nothing to compare with them since the days of Fanny Kemble.

THE WEATHER IN MINNESOTA—MAN FROZEN TO DEATH.—Within the jast three days we have had a plentiful visitation of snow, and have experienced the severest weather as yet, of the season. On Friday night the mercury fell to 28 degrees below zero; yet the inclemency of the weather has not been felt to half of the excent that it would be in the Atlantic States, even at a much higher temperature. With the thermometer far below zero, our dry and pure atmosphere makes the weather absolutely delightful; while at the east the humidity of the air would render the weather absolutely intolerable. There is not in the world a finer climate than that of Minnesota—St. Paul Chronicle, Jan 20.

cle, Jan 30.

A man, whose name we are unable to learn, supposed to be a Canadian, lost his way in the storm of Friday night, on the Wiscom in side of Lake St. Croix, near Point Douglass, and was found next day entirely dead.

An Englishmon, named as we learn, Stewart,

An Englishman, named as we learn, Stewart, was benighted during one of the cold nights of December, in the forests of the Eau Galla, and climbed a tree to get clear of the wolves. He was afterwards picked up, having his feet and legs badly frozen, by the mail train, and brought to Stillwater. His legs have been amounted, and we understand, he is doing well—Si. Paul Pioneer, Jan. 23.
